4. Concerns (Open questions - Fill in what is relevant for you)

The meeting enabled me to clear up questions I previously had on, such as:

- My exact tasks that I still have to fulfill - I hope that I will be able to realize it
- The real number of surveys to be gathered
- The number of questionnaires completed up to that point.

The following issues/elements are still a major concern to me:

- What activities are we going to do in the near future
- How to get the number of the surveys when the school is still closed.
- Some categories in the survey
- transnational meetings
- The Module that each partner must prepare for D3

I believe that the major obstacle/ barrier in this project for the near future will be:

- Barriers imposed by the pandemic. Restrictions in each country.
- Because of Covid 19, we are so busy in our own organizations that there is not enough time for the project. The personal overload situation is currently increasing.
- Honestly, I thought it would be easier to provide the agreed numbers of responses to the questionnaire. People are busy with other matters these months and it is not easy to solicit responses.
- The TPM schedule and completion
- Coronavirus pandemic
- Reaching the target of questionnaires and interviews for each category.

Any other comments? :

- I hope that these restrictions will end in the summer and that we can work normally again.
- The project is perfectly managed, and the meetings help to clarify open issues. Unfortunately, virtual meetings cannot replace face-to-face meetings.
- I am working about the dissemination of the project with the local press. I am working to organize activities with the volunteers of ADA , but we have some difficulties because we are in red zone. We had a very big participation to the survey, a lot of people answered .We spread the questionnaire with social networks.

CONCLUSIONS

In general, the meeting was successful, but some action is needed for the concerns expressed and to mitigate any major obstacle/ barrier in this project for the near future. With the action taken we will be able to reach the promising quality standards of the CONOCO project.
