Introduction

The meeting aimed at discussing the deliverables, and tasks of the project, considering all the aspects, both technical and administrative. As the project is almost completed, the main discussion revolved around the finalization of the Deliverables, presenting the exploitation and sustainability plan of the project as well as any other task required to close the project.

This evaluation report will provide valuable information about the quality of the final meeting and the level of achieving its objectives. This report is a tool of quality assurance during the implementation of the CONOCO project.

Evaluation procedure and data collection

- The evaluation was prepared as an online survey, designed in Google forms. The coordinator (EAEC) has sent to the project consortium the link to the online survey to be answered. The questions of the survey covered four different dimensions that either address the meeting exclusively or the project in general. These dimensions were:
 1. Content and work in the meeting
 2. Organisation of the Meeting
 3. The current status of the project
 4. Concerns (Open questions - Fill in what is relevant for you)

Data analysis included descriptive statistics as well as content analysis procedures derived from both the open-ended questions and close-ended questions based on the partners' responses to the evaluation questionnaires.

The data analysis was based in a sample of 10 responses. All seven (7) organizations were represented by at least one meeting participant.

Any other comments?:

- The activities were great - the only concern is about the rush for the deadlines.
- Everything was perfect
- Thank you for the perfect organization.
- Some activities were pushed in a rush but we could handle all the same.
- For sure, a new initiative in order to propose a second CONOCO project is more than welcome!

Conclusions

- The results and the data visualization show that the meeting was successful, and the participants were satisfied. The partners understood the next actions to be made for the finalization of the project, including their understanding to translate the final deliverable (D6) and further dissemination activities as well as finish reporting. Overall, the evaluation is indicative of the efforts and work behind the CONOCO project.
